#about

Got my start in SaaS sales at an SMB. I learned how to sell.

Then, I moved to a marketing company at another SMB. I learned how to market.

Now, I am using the language of sales and marketing to help build communities and grow with startups.

Got my start in software sales at a medium sized company. I learned how to build from the ground up with little to no resources.

I have used my skills to help grow SMBs and Mid-cap companies from good companies, into great companies. Keeping up with AI has helped me become more organized, resulting in quality work for my clients.

Continuing this journey to help companies grow alongside me and flourish in excellence.
